The circumambient atmosphere vibrates with heat. Everywhere the waves of radiation are visible, as well as sensible to the nerves of feeling, and no cessation of the intemperate condition of the temperature is anywhere in sight.

From everywhere in the heat zone complaint is heard concerning the excessive torridity. New York sweltered yesterday under a temperature that reached 105 in the shade. # DENIAL BY DEWEY

Has Not Been Talking War or Polities for Publication.

Declares He Did Not Say to a Brooklyn Reporter That the Filipino Leaders Predict Bryan's Election or That a State of War Exists in China-The Admiral Chagrined.

Admiral Dewey was particularly incensed oday when his attention was called to an dleged interview with him, published in moon. The interview was spread at length on the first page of the paper with a saying that whatever show of resistance to Ameritath whatever show of resistance to the saying the sa can authority there may be in the Philip-long this line that the insurrection is hat a state of war exists in China.

These remarks were all denied by the Admiral. He dictated the following statenents this morning: "My attention has been drawn to the ar-cle as published in the 'Brocklyn Eagle' particularly on account of the inaccuracies which it contains. I made use of no words aying or intimating that 'whatever show of resistance to our authority there is at the present time in the Philippines will be kept up until after our election in November. The insurrection is kept alive by the leaders, who hold out to the soldiers the hope of Bryan's election. Neither did I say or intimate that in my opinion a state of war exists between this ountry and China. These statements at ributed to me are absolutely incorrect."

The full text of the article in the Brooklyn Eagle" was as follows:

"Washington, Aug. 9.—Admiral George Dewey came to town this morning from his country home in the suburbs of Washing-ton. He sat in the front seat of a jaunty on. He sat in the front seat of a jame, vellow buckboard and drove a spanking pair of bay horses. An English footman n livery occupied the rumble.

Whatever show of resistance to our authority there is at the present time in the Philippines will be kept up until after our election in November. The insurrection is kept alive by the leaders, who hold out to the soldiers the hope of Bryan's election.

Referring to China, Admiral Dewey "I regard the situation in China as ex-ceedingly grave. The difficulties that our soldiers will have to contend against are many and various. The conditions that exist there are very much the same as those in the Philippine Islands. You will see from the map just prepared by the War Department that the road between Tientsin and Pekin is very narrow and there is very little opportunity for extenthere is very little opportunity for extensive military operations. The troops will have to fight in small bodies just as our soldiers have had to do in the Philippine Islands. The country offers all sorts of opportunities for ambuscades and sudden attacks on the part of the enemy. The fields are flooded and the ground very bad for an invading force.'

there was really a condition of war now existing between this country and China, he said:

should say most assuredly yes. They are killing our people and our soldiers are aghting hard for their lives. Of course you cannot judge China by the same stan-dard as you would other countries. There s really no government there, as we un-derstand it. The whole governmental function is in the hands of old women. Age is a great thing over there. Curtis had some whisky in two bottles and thought-lessly offered Hatfield a drink from the smaller bottle. The old mountaineer threw the flask to the ground and demanded the larger one. Curtis refused and Hatfield attempted to force Curtis to deliver the whisky. Curtis never for an instant suspected that his opponent was the polarious pected that his opponent was the notorious "Cap" Hatfield, and drew his gun and told him to stand back or there would be trouble. "Cap" Hatfield was in his element. With a smile he said, approaching Curtis: "Give me that whisky or Fil —" He never got any further. Curtis fired and in the twinkling of an eye "Cap" had drawn his revolver and the duel was on. Backing, Curtis continued to fire, and at about the same time both men fell. Curtis was shot in the neck, Hatfield in the abdomen. The men were picked up by some of the other men in camp, and it was then that Hatfield admitted that for some of the other men in camp, and it was then that Hatfield admitted that for the past two months he had been sailing under an assumed name, and that he was, n truth, the redoubtable Captain Hatfield.
